

Design Project (Visual Merchandising)

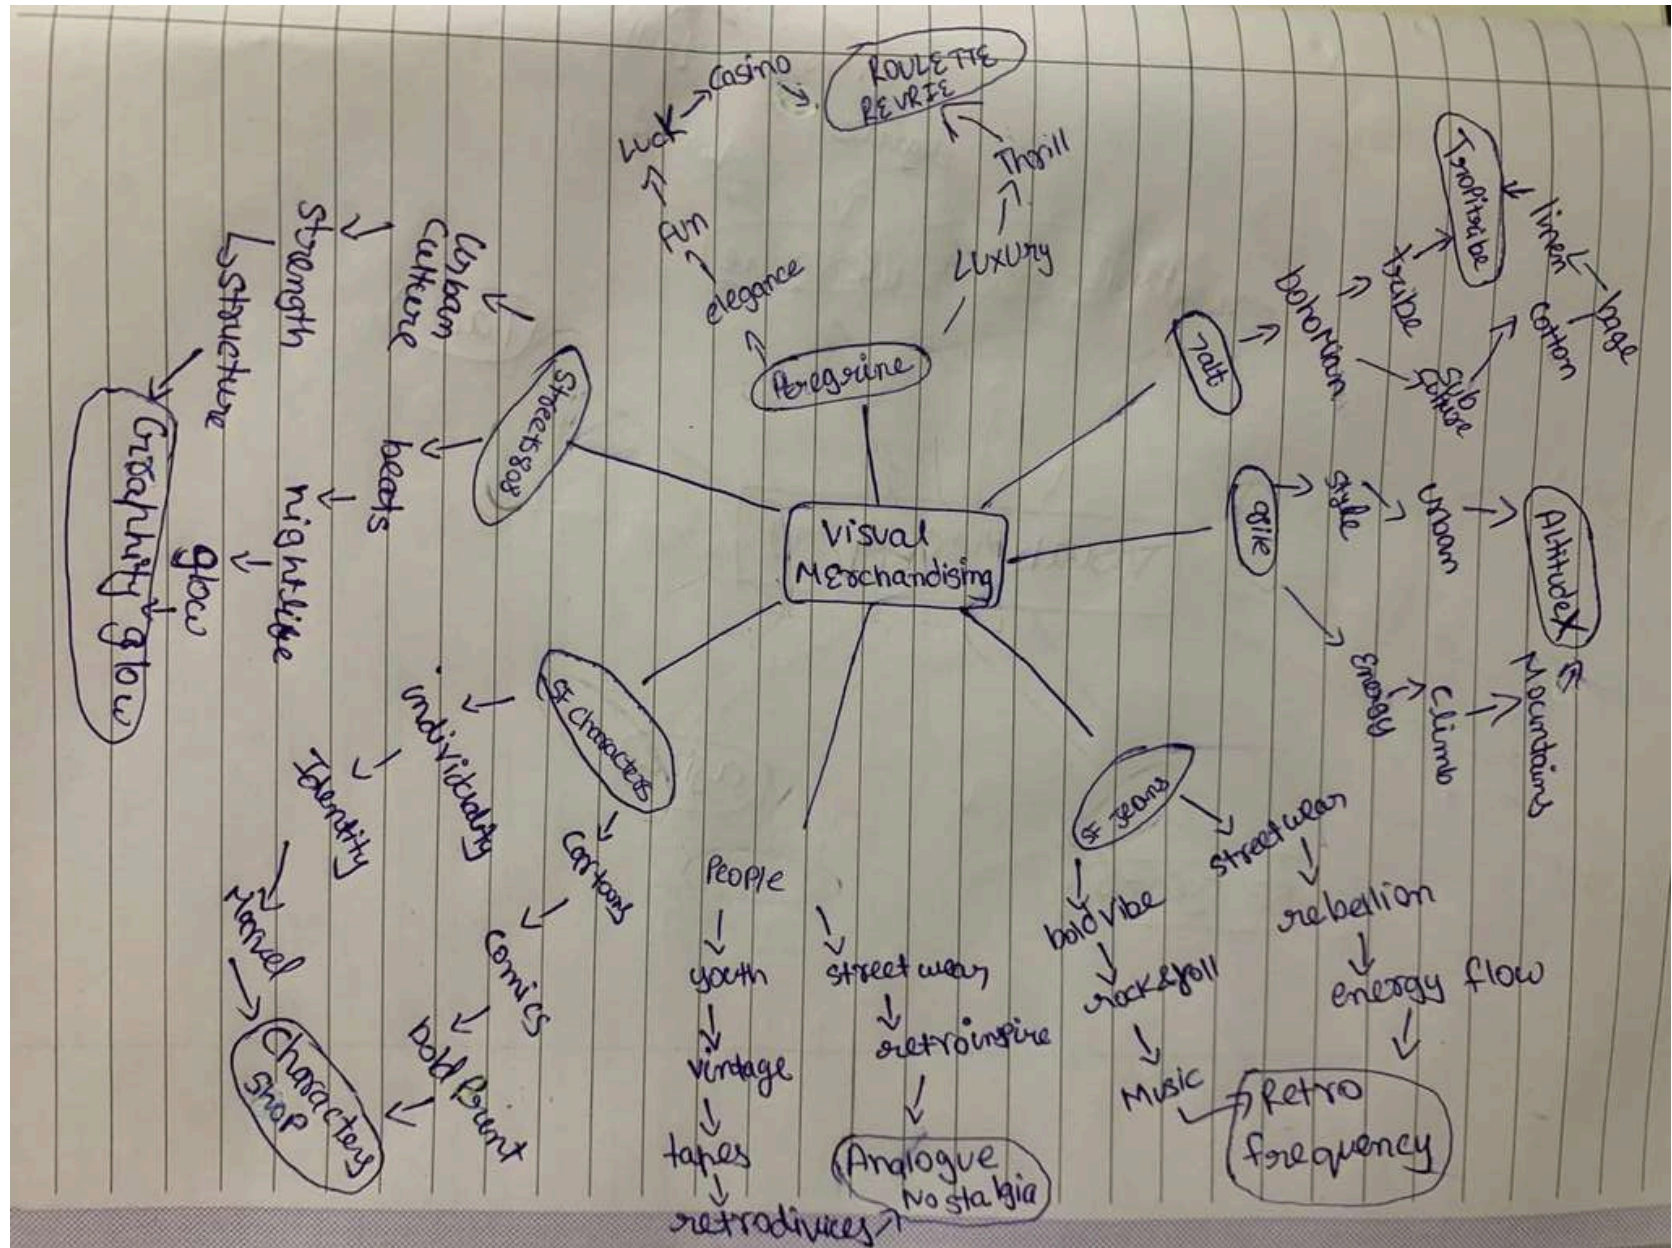

Visual Display Art Plates

Task:

We have to construct and present a final presentation of visual display selected from the final drawings of visual display. The final presentation of visual display should include the following information:

- Once approval on your idea has been given, you can now start work on assembling your display. It is entirely up to you what you create but you may need to justify your choices later. To gather evidence, take photographs of your display in the construction process as well as when it is finished.
- Each individual student will develop and execute their final visual display design.
- Explore different tools & equipment, and other raw materials for visual display developments.
- Develop a final finished visual display attempt of good quality with a clean finish for an impeccable visual display quality.
- Also required to work out a promotional planning strategy and professional photo shoot of final visual display.
- At the end of the project, present the complete ensemble with their portfolio of visual display design research and development work.
- Prepare a portfolio depicting and analyzing the following – theme, floor plan, fixtures and display materials, props, light and lighting systems, color, graphics and signage, and mannequins, etc.
- The artwork and photographs must be preserved and digitized for compilation towards the development of the art portfolio.
- You must analyze the reasons behind the key choices in your display.
