Concept

My collection captures the majestic aura of The Rathore Court, bringing its royal beauty and rich heritage into a modern design. It is inspired by a traditional Rajasthani court scene, specifically titled "Durbar - The Rathore Court." It is an intricate illustration in the style of Indian miniature painting, showcasing a royal assembly. The grand palace, with its detailed carvings, arched windows, and golden accents, serves as the main inspiration for my artwork. I have taken elements from the architecture—such as the patterns on the walls, the royal throne, and the intricate decorations—and transformed them into stylish fashion details. The design blends traditional elegance with a fresh, contemporary feel, creating a look that is both regal and wearable.
